

GAMBA MUSIC CLUB

FOURTEEN ELIZABETHAN DANCES

Tr T T B

GMC159
A Gamba Music Club publication
2003

Fourteen Elizabethan Dances

These dances, all anonymous, have been selected and transcribed from a collection of some three dozen pieces written in score on blank pages of a set of part books of church music formerly in the library of Lord Lumley, and now in the British Library. They are probably the work of musicians in the household of the Earl of Arundel at Nonsuch Palace around 1560.